EXTRA CLERKS AND CARRIERS TO WORK

Preparations Being Made for Holiday Rush and Parcels Post Deliveries.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, Nov. 3.—With arrangements already made for a force of extra carriers during the Christmas rush, Postmaster L. W. Shurtliff has received a communication from department headquarters in Washington, D. C., providing for twelve or fifteen extra clerks in the Ogden postoffice during the holidays. At a wage of 20 cents per hour, the extra men will start work about December 15 and continue in service until the rush is over, February 15, or later.

Postmaster Shurtliff may be forced to retain several extra men on the regular list because of the parcels post act, which goes into effect January 1. A large increase in the amount of fourth-class mail is expected. Discussing the manner in which the parcels post would be handled, the parcels post mail, Assistant Postmaster Rufus Garner said:

It is a problem we have been considering, but we have made no definite plans. It is my opinion that after January 1 we will be as busy handling fourth-class mail as we are during the Christmas season. In case the new law results in an increase of business, we are thinking of having a special wagon delivery for that branch alone. It is possible that two wagons will be required, one for the northern part of the city and one for the southern part.

We could have the regular carriers deliver the parcels, but an abundance of the lower class matter would delay the delivery of important mail and prove very inconvenient for the business men of the city. Definite plans will not be made, however, until we see how the new law affects the business.

PENNILESS MAN BEFRIENDED.

Former Prosperous Stage Driver on Way to California is in Ogden.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, Nov. 3.—At one time a prosperous stage driver, Frank Carpenter, now seventy years of age, arrived in Ogden today penniless and in weakened physical condition as the result of a severe cold which, it is feared, may result in pneumonia. The aged man came to this city from Wyoming and is endeavoring to make his way to Santa Barbara, Cal., where he is supposed to have relatives and friends.

Mr. Carpenter is in care of Sheriff E. E. Harrison and his deputies and will remain at the county jail until some means can be provided for his transportation to California. The Weber county officers will not allow him to leave the city until they are assured that he will reach his friends in safety. It is believed that the authorities at Cheyenne, Wyo., furnished the old man with transportation as far as Ogden.

CHOIR GIVES FIRST RECITAL OF SEASON

The Male Chorus and Solos by Willard Andelin Are Features.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, Nov. 3.—Although it was the first public recital of the season, the program carried out by the tabor-nacle choir, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Willard Andelin, at the tabor-nacle tonight indicated careful preparation and demonstrated that the choir is ready for a most successful season's work. The male chorus numbers under the special direction of Prof. Joseph Bulantyne and the solos by Mr. Andelin featured the evening's entertainment. The concert was given as the second number of the Weber academy lecture course.

Previous to opening the regular program, Principal W. W. Henderson announced Miss Eva Cragin and Lorena Richards as the winners of the gold watches in the ticket-selling contest. The watches were presented by Professor Henderson, who acted as a judge, together with Superintendent John M. Mills of the city schools, and Principal Henry Peterson of the Ogden high school.

The contest was open to students of the academy and high school. While the sale of season lecture course tickets was not equal to the expectations of the committee, the results are gratifying.

The candidates are selected at non-partisan primaries in each municipal ward about one week before the election. Were Ogden a city of the first class, the board would consist of ten members, five elected every two years.

EFFECTS OF HAIL FELT.

Eccles Says Fully a Week's Run Is Lost at Burley Factory.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, Nov. 3.—The Burley factory of the Amalgamated Sugar company is feeling the effects of the severe hail storm which threatened the destruction of crops in that section last summer, according to General Superintendent Leroy Eccles. He says fully a week's run of the plant has been lost in handling the beet which contain deteriorating substances and a reduced percentage of saccharine as a result of damage by hail. According to Mr. Eccles the loss will be sustained entirely by the sugar company, as the growers were allowed the regular tonnage at the regular contract prices (or a higher percentage) because the beet were damaged. The beet have been closed for the past ten days because the farmers have not been able to replenish the supply of beets.

Fawcett, the progressive candidate, was unintentionally referred to as the Republican candidate and, incidentally, the next alderman in the second district. ## PRESIDENT CALLS CABINET TOGETHER

By International News Service.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Calling together his cabinet for the first time since August 26, President Taft today laid before it a number of questions of primary importance, among them the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the Balkan states, the annual message to congress, the budget system and the question of pensions for government clerks.

The first was definitely disposed of, the cabinet unanimously upholding their chief in his determination to send warships to Constantinople to insure the safety of Americans in the hostile territory.

The appointment of a successor to Dr. Harvey Wiley was discussed in today's cabinet session, but no decision was made public. It is thought, however, that Dr. Doolittle, Dr. Wiley's former assistant, will be appointed to succeed his chief.

In the afternoon the president lunched with Acting Secretary of the Navy Beekman Winthrop to discuss the details of sending ships to Turkey and then received Viscount Chinda, the Japanese ambassador, who called to present his credentials from the new emperor to the president. Replying to the ambassador's remarks about the advisability of continuing the peaceful relations between the United States and Japan, the president said: "I trust that during the continued enjoyment of your confidence and your government's friendly support I may be enabled to fulfill the high and honored mission entrusted to me in consolidating the historic relations of friendship and good understanding between Japan and the United States."
